

Isaiah Prophecy About Jesus and Romans 10:16-21

<<First Name>>

Today we dive into Romans 10:16-21, examining Paul's references to the Jewish scriptures, especially a certain passage from Isaiah.

A few years ago, I read this passage to my 12-year-old grandson, and asked him: "Who do you think the author is writing about?"

His answer shouldn't surprise us:

Jesus.

This astounding prophecy was found in the Dead Sea Scrolls, dating hundreds of years before Christ's coming—yet even a 12-year-old boy could see who it was talking about.

Anyone who reads that passage with an intellectually honest eye would have to agree. Here's why:

Click below to read more and share your thoughts in the comments!

Read the Blog Here

Want More?

Learn To Love Like Jesus.

In Love Like Jesus, Kurt Bennett shows how Jesus lived His love—showing mercy, setting boundaries, loving the unlovable, and even taking time to rest. Honest, practical, and deeply human, this book helps you love others well without losing yourself. Get the book today in print, ebook, or audiobook!

Buy the Book Here

